'Facelift' at library

A complete remodeling of the interior of the Granite City Public Library, 200, Delmar Ave. is expected to be completed late this week, officials of Lombardi Paint & Interior Co. designers and contractors for the remodeling, have said. The $41,000 program includes new carpeting, trim, curtains and decorations in a traditional style.

All of the decorating is designed to bring out the natural beauty of the structure, accentuating the high arched windows and dual fireplaces.

Mrs. Kathy Lombardi, co-designer of the remodeling plan, commented:

"She and Mrs. Alice Baugh were responsible for planning the new interior which will include comfortable sitting areas in front of the two fireplaces."

Wood is a predominant theme in the main floor and balcony, trim has been placed around the windows at the top of the walls and in many other areas. The radiators are being covered with wood-grain, hand-built covers and the metal balcony railing is being replaced with a wooden patterned railing.

Molding is used to decorate above the dual fireplaces and the arched window in the main entrance.

A sofa and four chairs will be placed in front of each fireplace. The designers say the library plans to use the fireplaces, which formerly were boarded up.

New carpeting in earth colors was installed late last week on the main floor and balcony, and swag drapes will be installed this week at the tops of the arched windows, leaving the arches showing. Woven wooden curtains are being prepared to hang in each window.

Mrs. Lombardi emphasized that the library is being remodeled to ring ever preclaiming our freedom as Americans.

Some regret signing as 'anti'; now want sewers

ELEVENTH OF A SERIES
A few Chouteau Township residents who said they had been given false information about anticipated costs of the Four Township Sanitary Sewer program had their questions answered at the Chouteau Town Board of Auditors meeting Tuesday night—and indicated they are going to try and have their names removed from petitions that would block the program.

A petition drive is under way to attempt to halt creation of special service areas necessary for funding of the sewer program. To approve the program and obtain sewers, officials have asked residents to not sign petitions.

The local share of the sewer cost is to be raised by creating a special service area, selling general obligation bonds for the 25 per cent local share of the construction cost, and retiring the bonds through property taxes.

Some residents have charged that some of the persons circulating anti-sewer petitions are using false information in attempting to get Chouteau Township residents to sign.

Fields named to bridge position

Thomas Fields, 212 Abbott St., Venice, has been named acting office manager of the McKinley Toll Bridge. It was announced today by Alderman Tyrone Echols, chairman of the City Council's bridge committee, and Mayor William Ebersoldt of Venice.

Fields' appointment is subject to approval of the entire City Council at its meeting Tuesday, June 8.

Fields is replacing Donald Phillips, who retired this week after 18 years of service with the bridge administration.

Fields has been working as an administrative assistant to Mayor Ebersoldt since October 1974.

The position Fields left has been funded under the Manpower program and is not being filled due to a job and funding evaluation by Manpower of Illinois.

Fields graduated from Venice High School in 1967. He received a bachelor's degree in government from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, and a master's degree in public administration from Kent State University.

Duane Georgeff is the bridge manager.

Boy, 4, burned; critical

Daniel Strubberg, 4, of 2205 Maryville Road, was burned critically at 8:10 a.m. today when he was caught on fire in his home.

He suffered burns on 80 per cent of his body and was transported from St. Elizabeth Hospital to the burn unit of Barnes Hospital, St. Louis.

The child's mother, Mrs. Sharon Strubberg, said she was in bed when she heard her son screaming. She said she ran to him to find his pajamas on fire and most of them already burned off.

She pulled the remaining cloth from him, burning her hands, and then called for an ambulance. Ambulance drivers requested police to block all major intersections along Nameoki Road and Madison Avenue and the ambulance was able to bring the boy to the St. Elizabeth Hospital trauma room in two and one-half minutes.

He was examined here and attempts were made to stabilize his condition before he was transported to the St. Louis hospital.

Mrs. Strubberg was treated here for burns to her hands and she was released.

Authorities said they were unable to determine how the boy's pajamas caught fire, but suspect he may have been lighting matches.

Some residents have charged that some of the persons circulating anti-sewer petitions are using false information in attempting to get Chouteau Township residents to sign.

The local share of the sewer cost is to be raised by creating a special service area, selling general obligation bonds for the 25 per cent local share of the construction cost, and retiring the bonds through property taxes.

In Area One, which includes the Stallings, Pontoon Beach and Mitchell areas, it is estimated that the average annual tax bill for sewers would be $100 or less, officials said.

There is no tap-on fee proposed, and an inspection fee of $25 is proposed at the time each home is tapped into the sewer service.

Some Chouteau Township residents attending Tuesday night's Town Board meeting said they had signed anti-sewer petitions because they had been told the tap-on fee would be $1,700.

Township Supervisor Walter "Dick" Sparks said the $1,700 figure is near the estimated charge each homeowner would have if the sewers were paid for in a "lump sum" without bonds being sold.

He said that method of paying for the sewers has been ruled out, since about $1,600 would have to be collected from 100 per cent of the homeowners in the area to be served if the sewers were paid for immediately. Instead, with bonds, there will be no tap-on charge.

Other residents were told the county's special sewer committee, chaired by Sparks, had been avoiding talking to people about "the real cost of the sewers."

One woman said that when she was asked to sign an anti-

Another Shrine parade will be held Friday night in Belleville where the circus is to show Saturday, Sunday and Monday at the Belle-Clair Fairgrounds on Route 13.

Tonight's parade in Granite City will proceed north on Madison Avenue from the starting point, turn left on Nameoki Road and continue to the 2400 block of Nameoki Road where it will disband.

A 1904 booklet on Granite City relates that in the mid-1890s the area consisted of only a few houses, situated in the midst of a cornfield of the American Bottoms. It described the Bottoms area as one of the most famous wheat and corn raising districts in the nation.

The publication noted that Granite City "has 8,000 inhabitants, nine large and numerous small manufacturing with an annual payroll of $1,500,000, banks, hotels, clubs, and public schools and churches."

It added that the city "is growing faster than any other city in America."

The booklet sought to outline "the reasons for this rapid evolution, and explain the advantages Granite City offers to manufacturers, merchants, investors and home seekers."

"First to recognize the natural advantages of Granite City as a manufacturing site were Messrs. F. G. and Wm. F. Niedringhaus, who for over 40 years have been among the largest employers of labor in St. Louis, employing in their various manufacturing enterprises over 3,500 men.

Students say freedom is alive and well—must be used wisely to be retained

First-place essay

By CAROL LYNN KINNEY
The Liberty Bell is a symbol of my freedom as an American. A freedom I have taken for granted until now.

Now more than ever, as I am making my college plans, I realize the freedom I have in deciding my education. What do I want to do? Where do I want to go? What do I want to accomplish? How do I want to spend the rest of my life?

All of these decisions and choices are thrust upon me alone to decide, while citizens of some countries have no choice at all.

These freedoms must be used wisely if they are to be retained. After exercising my right to vote this spring for the first time, I feel I am a part of my country.

Given this freedom of choice, I am for the first time accepting my responsibility as an American to decide who will govern this country the way our forefathers intended it to be governed.

This country was founded as a free nation, where its inhabitants could enjoy religious freedom initially and, later, freedom of speech, freedom of assembly and freedom of the press. All of these freedoms, I am pleased to say, live on today—proving that this country's foundation has not crumbled in these past two hundred years.

Just as our forefathers had a broken spirit after they landed in America and suffered winter that took one-third of their lives, the Liberty Bell is broken, cracked.

But our forefathers had the will and the strength to push on and make America what it is today—just as the Liberty Bell continues to ring, ever preclaiming our freedom as Americans.

Weather outlook for this region

Mostly sunny today with high in the upper 70s. Clear tonight, low in the low 60s. Partly cloudy Friday with high near 80. Increasing cloudiness Saturday with chance of showers Sunday and Monday. Weekend lows in the 60s and highs near 80.

the Panama Canal, which is now practically assured, will give a tremendous impetus to business in the Mississippi Valley and open for it an era of prosperity beyond the dreams of the most ardent enthusiast.

No city in the valley is better situated to share in this than Granite City and the appreciation in value of real estate—these things being accomplished—will be beyond our power to estimate.

"Granite City is practically a suburb of St. Louis and its residents share all the advantages of the city without the attendant discomforts."

"Passenger trains leave Union Station, Granite City for St. Louis every half hour, landing passengers at Washington Avenue, the business center in 20 minutes."

"The commutation fare for adults is six cents and for children three and one-half cents. Electric lines afford rapid links with St. Louis and East St. Louis and a line will shortly be opened to Alton, Edwardsville, Mitchell and other surrounding towns."

"Granite City is located on the east bank of the Mississippi River, directly opposite the northern part of the city of St. Louis. Mo. It is situated on a high plateau 14 feet higher than East St. Louis, Ill., which is four miles to the north, and safely above the highest water mark of the greatest river floods on record."

"The 1903 high water, which resulted in disastrously to nearby towns and threatened for a time to engulf East St. Louis, left Granite City high and dry, a veritable city of refuge."

"Briefly stated, these are ample shipping facilities by railroad and river, proximity of coal mines, affording cheap fuel, abundant water supply at low rates, cheap electric power and light, moderate taxes, cheap building materials and good roads."

Either by private branches and direct switches or by the Terminal Rail Road Association, and St. Louis Merchants Bridge Terminal Railway Co., all manufacturers in Granite City are connected with all the railroads which enter St. Louis and East St. Louis, 27 in all, ten of which pass directly through Granite City, affording direct and rapid communication with all parts of the country."

"Ample terminal facilities permit free movement of freight at all times and prevent congestion, with consequent annoyance and loss."

"Two bridges span the Mississippi River to St. Louis. The Merchants Bridge, directly opposite Granite City, and the famous Eads Bridge to the south, opposite East St. Louis."

"The principal manufacturers now in operation represent millions of dollars invested by shrewd businessmen who thoroughly investigated the conditions and found that Granite City offered them greater advantages and more special inducements than any other location."

"There are at the present time splendid openings for the following: flour mill, terra cotta works, glass works, carriage and wagon factory, stove works and machine shops."

Madison summer school registrations still open

Registration for summer school in Madison will continue through Monday, ending at 4 p.m. in all six Madison school buildings, according to Superintendent of Schools John Falchett.

Registration times are from 8:30 a.m. until 4 p.m. today, Friday and Monday.

There is a $25 course fee at the Madison High School, and a $2 registration fee for the four-week elementary school program.

Both the MHS and elementary programs begin tomorrow, however late registrations on Monday will be accepted, Falchett emphasized.

that as much care is being given to redecorating the children's library in the basement as the main floor.

"Cool" colors, including blues and greens, are being used in the basement, coordinating with existing green and white floor tile.

The new stage is carpeted in a green and blue tweed and the windows are being outlined with wooden lambrequins covered in a coordinated design wall covering.

Soft blue fabric will cover the windows, with dark shades hidden behind, to be used to darken the room for the showing of films.

The free-standing pillars will be highlighted by wood moldings with inserts of designed wall covering.

The walls of the children's library are to be accented with colorful bulletin boards.

Robert Lombardi, who is coordinating the work, commented, "We are proud we have been given this opportunity to display local talent in decorating the library. Far too often, people look elsewhere for talents that many of us have right here in Granite City."

"Come, I have dinner." The Americans ring it to say, "Come, we too have something."

The shape of the bell can be symbolic. It starts small but grows very wide—as the nation began small but made tremendous advancements.

We filled the needs of the world for advancement in teaching. We filled the need for technology and industrial improvements. But, mostly, we filled the people; we filled the cavern of tyranny with the breath of freedom.

The crack that remains in the bell is a symbol of our responsibility in the future. If we see the bell as America, and the crack as the problems it has faced, we can see that our obligations lie in preventing further division and healing the one that we have. America is far too deep inside us to let malicious forces drain it from us.

The crack has silenced the bell. But the silence can be looked upon as awe—the bell is awed at the accomplishments its people have made.

The Liberty Bell is a symbol. It is a symbol of life, an oasis in the world of socialism and monarchy. And a message to Americans now, and in the future, to cherish the freedom they have. For nowhere, at any time, in any universe can a democracy survive without a strong, willing force behind it, which is the people.

Contribution was not bribe—senator

State Senator Sam M. Vadalabene, Edwardsville Democrat, said yesterday, "I get a lot of contributions from other legislators. I thought this was a contribution from (Sen. Kenneth) Course (D, Chicago)." He referred to $300, one of a large number of gifts apparently originating from "ready-made concrete firms."

"Other legislators also are denying that such 1972 contributions affected their voting," Vadalabene stressed that the campaign donation in no way represented a "bribe" or "payoff."

Sen. Course testified at Chicago in a federal court trial to which eight men have been accused of conspiring to take $300,000 from the cement industry. He said those who received money from him included 16 Democratic state legislators in his testimony. Course described the money as campaign contributions.

Sen. Vadalabene said, "He gave me $300 and I did take it. He then just walked away. He did not say that it was from the concrete people or anybody else. He told me, 'Here, this is for your campaign.'"

A truck load limit bill passed

Rites Sunday for Mack Holiday, 62

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Sunday at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, 1001 S. 1st St., Brookings, S.D. Vadalabene said, "I have never accepted or even been offered a bribe. We're talking about something that happened after the vote. I would have voted for that bill anyway because there were certain concrete people in my area who wanted it."

Abandon search for boy in river

Dragging operations near the Chain of Rocks Bridge were suspended yesterday by the St. Charles County Sheriff's office which was attempting to find a Missouri youth who reportedly fell from a girder into the Mississippi River about 12:30 a.m. Tuesday. The old Chain of Rocks bridge is owned by the City of Madison.

Sgt. Robert Bonzon of the St. Louis Police Department's Sixth District said an investigation is "being pursued and various photos are being shown witnesses who reported seeing the youth fall."

The police officer said efforts to identify the youth so far have been unsuccessful. He is described as about 16 years old, blond and dressed in a white T-shirt and blue jeans.

The group with the missing youth was unable to provide police a last name, knowing him only as "Tom." The witnesses said "Tom" fell into the river from a girder on which he had been climbing and was heard screaming for help after he hit the water, just before they saw him go under.

The river beneath the old bridge is very dangerous and the current is swift, forming whirlpools near the bridge. Large rocks fill the area and those dragging the bottom "lost a lot of hooks," Sgt. Bonzon said.

The U.S. Coast Guard, which initially dragged the area near the low water dam, abandoned the search Tuesday afternoon. The St. Charles County Sheriff's office continued dragging operations through yesterday.

Speculating the report could be a hoax, Sgt. Bonzon said, "This is being considered." Should the body not surface within three or four days those involved may be given a lie detector test, he said.

Photographs are being shown the witnesses, three men and a girl, all Missouri residents.

No one matching the description of "Tom" has been reported missing, Sgt. Bonzon said.

At the point where the youth fell, the distance to the water was estimated between 100 and 150 feet. St. Louis police said they frequently chase youths from the structure which was closed in 1966 when the new Interstate 70 free bridge was completed.

DINNER, CONCERT AND PAGEANT are planned at 7 p.m. Saturday at the Chase-Park Plaza Hotel, St. Louis, to aid the building fund program of Trinity Church of God, P.O. Box 212, Madison. A new church building was erected at 800 Bissell St. to replace a burned structure. Melissa Fisher dies in crash

Miss Melissa Ann Fisher, 17, of Belleville, the daughter of a former Granite City resident, was killed about 3:35 p.m. Wednesday when the car she was driving struck a car carrying five passengers on Route DD, two miles west of U.S. 40 in St. Charles County, Mo.

Miss Fisher was pronounced dead at St. Joseph Hospital in St. Charles. A passenger, Miss Yolanda Menendez, 14, of Belleville, was in critical condition at the hospital and a second passenger, Miss Judy Trimbler, 15, of Belleville, was in satisfactory condition with possible neck and arm injuries.

The five persons in the carry-all, all residents of Nashville, Tenn., and Lexington, Ky., are reported in satisfactory condition at St. John's Mercy Medical Center.

Miss Fisher was a junior at Belleville West High School. She was born and reared in Belleville.

Missouri State Patrol said Miss Fisher was driving east on Route DD at an apparent high speed when the auto went off the road, recrossed the pavement and struck the westbound carry-all almost head-on.

She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John N. (Nancy Miller) Fisher, of Belleville; two sisters, Mrs. Jane Hon and Mrs. Kenneth (Lynn) McLean, both of Belleville; a brother, Charles Fisher, of California; and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Miller of Belleville. Several aunts and uncles live locally.

Private funeral services will take place Friday at a Belleville mortuary.

Change of pace during Springfest

A "tip-roaring revival" offered a change of routine for students at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Following the tension and mental strain of studies, they revived themselves in the springtime sun during a week of fun, games and entertainment which highlighted the annual campus Springfest.

One of the more popular activities was the Strong Man Bell-Ring booth sponsored by Sigma Pi fraternity. Many students took time out after academic tests to try their skills in a physical test of strength. With flexed muscles and sledge-like hammer in hand, one by one, the "Charles Atlas" types of the university tried with all their might to hit the ground base with enough momentum to send a small, disc-shaped 10-foot pole to ring the bell.

Many who approached it with the confidence of a tiger later walked away with the meekness of a lamb, 25 cents poorer. But after the initial embarrassment wore off, many came back time and time again in an effort to gain back the self-esteem they had left behind the first time around.

In addition to "Mr. Atlas," there were also quite a few "Miss Atlas" types who strived to show that their abilities were not merely matching wits in the classroom.

Dan Parker was one of the few participants to excel. Parker rang the bell on the third try of his first turn (three tries for a quarter). But unfortunately, he walked away with nothing to show for it.

"The reason," he explained, "is that you have to ring the bell twice to get a cigar. And to get a stuffed animal, you have to ring it three times."

MOTORCYCLE STOLEN

A black 1968 model motor cycle owned by Roland Cagle, 203 Granite St. Venice was stolen from the garage at his home. Cagle reported that when Cagle said the motorcycle was inoperable and would have had to be hauled away.

LOOK MA, NO HANDS. Rich Segobiano of Granite City does not really have bad manners; he is just participating in a picnic eating contest at SIUE and is not allowed to use his hands. The contest was one of many held during Springfest week at SIUE. He is a junior majoring in physical education.

Lynns officers of foreign student hospitality group

New officers have been selected for the International Hospitality Program (IHP) at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The IHP is an organization of over 100 families who act as a hospitality committee for foreign students coming to the university for the first time, according to Mrs. Kathryn Kumler, an adviser for the general studies program at SIUE.

She, along with her husband, Marion "Mac" Kumler, associate professor of biological sciences at SIUE, will serve as president of the IHP for the next year.

"We meet the students at the airport, help them find housing, and assist them in any way they deem necessary," Mrs. Kumler said. "We act as a family, if that is what the student needs."

Other new members of the board are: Vice-president, Mr. and Mrs. John Spruiell of East St. Louis (Mrs. Spruiell is a student at SIUE); secretary, Mr. and Mrs. William Lynn of Granite City; treasurer, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Wantling of Edwardsville (Wantling is an emeritus professor at SIUE); and members at large, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Guillo of Edwardsville. The IHP was formed years ago when the SIUE campus had no housing on it at all, according to Mrs. Kumler. "At that time, it was necessary, especially if the student wasn't fluent in English, to help him or her find housing. Sometimes that meant finding it in St. Louis," she said.

With the problem of a language barrier, the IHP has helped many of the nearly 200 foreign students on campus with various programs to improve their English since the program has been organized. The Kumlers will soon visit the University of Indiana in Bloomington for training in community, as well as foreign student programs. "This will help us to be of more help to both the incoming and the resident foreign student," Mrs. Kumler said. "The training will be sponsored by the National Association of Foreign Student Affairs."

TELEVISION STOLEN
A color television was stolen in a burglary at the home of Frank Parker, 225 rear Kerr St. Venice, it was reported this week. A screen was torn off and a window pried open to gain entry, police said.

Wallace building big stock car racing lead

With three straight feature race victories and a firm hold on first place in the season point standings, Russ Wallace of Arnold, Mo., must be feeling confident as he prepares for this Saturday night's racing program at Tri-City Speedway. But Wallace faces some rugged competition from a full field of late model stock car drivers capable of "turning the tables" on the Missouri driver.

Wallace has accumulated 1,315 points this season, Bill Myers of East Alton could move into a challenging position with a good night. Myers has 900 points. A feature victory earns 200 points and 50 points are awarded for each heat race victory.

The first heat race will begin at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Granite City competitors are strong in the sportsman class standings but have been unable to overtake Wallace's son, Mike Wallace, who leads that division with 970 points.

Granite City's Dean Aene is closest with 840 points, followed by St. Louisan Kris Krohn with 825, Chuck Milam of Granite City at 585 and Granite City's Jack Yates with 580.

The first heat race will begin at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

600 compete in 2 sports days in GC

Approximately 600 fifth and sixth grade boys and girls representing the 16 Granite City School District elementary schools competed in individual track and fitness activities at Maryville School.

All participants were grouped for competition on the basis of height, weight and age. Each had earned the privilege to compete as a result of successes in similar meets held within each school.

Regular programs of athletic activities are conducted throughout the year for boys and girls at each school.

Limited team competition in soccer, flag football, basketball, volleyball and softball is held both within and between schools, with a majority of the fifth and sixth grade students in each school taking part in one or more of the activities.

The sports day, which has taken place every year since 1952, is designed to bring together all schools once each year as a final culminating event, a spokesman said.

No school scores are kept; ribbons representing city championships are presented to the five successful competitors.

Speer heads American Iron, Steel Institute

Edgar B. Speer, chairman and chief executive officer of United States Steel Corp., has been elected chairman and chief executive officer of the American Iron and Steel Institute.

Speer assumed the office during the weekend following the Institute's 84th general meeting, held in New York. He succeeds Frederick G. Jaicks, chairman of Inland Steel Co. AISI is an association of 74 iron and steel companies in the United States, Canada and Latin America. Its domestic member companies normally account for about 90 per cent of the raw steel produced in the United States.

A native of Pittsburgh, Speer began his steel industry career in 1938 as a metallurgical observer at the Youngstown (Ohio) Works of U. S. Steel, later becoming superintendent of the Bessemer and open hearth departments of the plant.

He rose through positions of increasing responsibility in production management at U. S. Steel plants in Gary, Ind., Duquesne, Pa. and Fairless, Pa. returning to Pittsburgh in 1968 as general manager of operations there. Subsequently, he was elected vice president, operations steel.

In 1969, Speer advanced to administrative vice president, central operations. In 1967, he became executive vice president, production and a year later was elected to U. S. Steel's board of directors. He took over the responsibilities of president of the corporation on Feb. 1, 1969, and served in that capacity until March 1, 1973, when he became chairman of the board.

Speer attended Widener College, the University of Pennsylvania and the advanced management program of the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration.

He holds memberships in the Business Council, the President's Council on Physical Fitness and the Boy Scouts of America. He is a trustee of Widener and Waynesburg Colleges and a director of the Regional Industrial Development Corporation of Southwestern Pennsylvania. Speer is a director of the International Iron and Steel Institute.

HOPE LUTHERAN CHURCH VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL
The "Life of Christ" will be the theme for this year's vacation Bible school at Hope Lutheran Church. The school will run from June 7 to 17.

The Rev. David Fielding has announced that classes are open for age three through adult. Classes will be held each evening at the church, 3715 Wabash Ave. 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Members and visitors are welcome and parents and adults are being encouraged to attend.

The closing program will be at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, June 17.

Rev. David Fielding, pastor of Hope Lutheran Church, is seen here.

If there is one thing the Bible points out to the believer it is that he shall endure hard trials. Suffering brings in the blessing point. However God is faithful and he will not put more upon us than we can bear. If we never walked the valley of desolation how could we know the blessing of a living God? We are told in the Bible that our light afflictions worketh for us a great and eternal reward in glory.

A just man shall fall seven times, but he will rise up again, and again. God does not want us to give up if we fall in any endeavor, but He expects that we will learn from the experience, and keep the faith, and stand on going. Bear in mind that each man stands on his own master and not to other individuals. If you have fallen, rise up in Jesus' name and start again today.

Two-day dental course at SIUE

A philosophy of dentistry, course called the Functionally Generated Path will be presented by Dr. F. Harold Wirth at the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville School of Dental Medicine, Saturday and Sunday.

According to Dr. Richard Coy, director of Advanced Educational Programs at the SIUE dental school, "The functionally generated path concept is a method of rebuilding the occlusion (the way teeth meet) to its correct muscle position. This is usually done in gold or porcelain surface because the mouth has lost its 'correct bite' due to loss of teeth from decay, orthodontic problems, gum disease and other congenital problems.

"This course is more than just a technique or way of rebuilding the teeth," Dr. Coy said. "It is deeply involved in philosophy. This philosophy covers treating the emotional aspects of the dentist and patient and the philosophy of office management."

Dr. Wirth received his DDS from Tulane University and his B.Sc. degree in dentistry from the University of Toronto. Dr. Coy said Dr. Wirth has lectured in 30 states, Europe and Asia and has written several articles concerning dentistry.

"Dr. Wirth is also one of the founding fathers of the newly-created Pankey Institute in Miami, Fla.," Dr. Coy said. "Dr. Pankey, as well as the late Dr. Mann, Dr. Schuyler and Dr. Wirth, are well-known and have lectured throughout the world. They are well-known for their philosophy of dentistry, methods and techniques through the functionally generated path."

100,000 DRIVERS FAIL

EACH YEAR over 100,000 licensed drivers fail the state written exam when they are retested. Experts say the main reason is that rules, laws and traffic signs have changed and drivers just don't keep up with all the changes. When your license expires this year, you may be asking the over half million drivers that will be retested. If you're nervous about being retested and don't want the embarrassment of failing, here's good news: You can now purchase your own sample test papers complete with the up to date questions, answers and illustrations of road signs you must know to pass your test. These test papers have helped thousands pass their test. Send $9.00 plus 75 handling (check of money order) to: National Bureau of Driver's Test, Illinois Division 24 P.O. Compensation cost rise dooms GC schools' insurance coverage

By GARY SCHNEIDER

Press-Record Staff Writer

The administration of the Granite City public schools has received official notification that its workmen's compensation insurance carrier plans to cancel the district's coverage, due to higher claims allowed under the state's new workmen's compensation program.

The Home Insurance Co., which carries the district's coverage of workmen's compensation, notified Tully A. Heubner, director of business affairs for the school district, that it wishes to cancel the policy as of the end of this month.

May 20, before official notification was received, a representative of the Lueders Agency, the local agency handling the school district's policy, joined Donald Stucke, school board member, and Heubner on a trip to Peoria at which the Home Insurance Co. was requested to continue the coverage.

Heubner told the Granite City Board of Education Tuesday night that the three were unsuccessful in that attempt and then visited the offices of the Insurance Companies of North America (INA) offices in Peoria to attempt to have them pick up the district's workmen's compensation coverage.

He said he has not yet received an answer from INA. The Lueders Agency is continuing to contact other insurance companies, attempting to find a company willing to accept the district's workmen's compensation policy, Heubner noted.

He told the board that the district would place the coverage with the state's Assigned Risk Program, but that program "most generally carries a higher premium than if one is solicited individually."

not, we are projecting a tremendous premium for the 1976-77 school year," Heubner told the board.

He said the premium of two years ago increased to $30,000 last year, a 66.6 per cent increase. The final figure of this year's premium is subject to auditing, he said.

Some projections indicate the premium for the upcoming year could increase to $50,000 and possibly as high as $80,000, Heubner reported.

"Even with that kind of rates, we can not find a company willing to take the risk under the state's new workmen's compensation program," he added.

Superintendent of Schools B. J. Davis told the board there is a great deal of support from labor for the new compensation bill, and the state legislators are having a difficult time attempting to revise it.

Heubner pledged he would keep the board members informed on the district's attempts to find a carrier for the insurance.

In other business, the board approved the purchase of 106 electric typewriters from the IBM Corp. for a total of $42,430.

Heubner noted the number being purchased is higher than the district normally purchases, but explained, "We have two classrooms of manual typewriters at North High School that have been extremely expensive on maintenance and the 'down time' of the machines has created a serious problem for the students enrolled in typing classes."

He said under rotating replacement schedule, no machines would have to be purchased next year and 30 machines then would be purchased for each of the following three years with older machines being traded in.

He said $20,000 of the money is available in the 1975-76 school year budget and the remainder would have to be taken from next year's budget.

The purchases include 102 for the high schools totaling $40,680, and four for the board office costing a total of $1,750. IBM was the lowest of four bidders meeting specifications selling the typewriters.

A policy was adopted by the board prohibiting cigarette smoking in school buildings by students and making it a part of the regular curriculum to advise students of the dangers of smoking.

Board members emphasized the policy does not prohibit students smoking in specified smoking areas outside of the school buildings. It will be the responsibility of each building principal to prepare rules and regulations on the smoking policy for that school.

The policy was adopted on the recommendation of the school district's policy committee.

In other business the board approved the continuation of the Manchester Life Insurance Co. as carrier of the district's student accident insurance policies.

Coverage for about 1,400 students and 510 athletes is estimated at $13,330. Students will pay a portion of that premium.

The Posey Agency, which carries the Manchester policies for the school district, submitted the lowest of five cost plans from three companies studied by the administration, Heubner told the board.

GRADUATES HONORED. John Sedej, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sedej, 4060 Stearns Ave., and Christina Clay, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Clay, 2560 Lynch Ave., who were presented with the American Legion Award during graduation ceremonies at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church last week.

Fred Schmidt honored by M-V Rotary

Rotarian Fred Schmidt, secretary of the Madison-Venice Rotary Club for the past five years, was honored for his service at the club's Wednesday noon meeting at the Madison Recreation Center.

Schmidt has been a member of the M-V Rotary for 25 years, is a former club president and formerly served in all club offices, including secretary.

A gift on behalf of the club was presented to Schmidt by Leo Schermer.

Henry Gray, vice-president elect, announced that he will be calling every member of the club to do his share in making the United Way drive a success in the M-V area.

President-elect W. F. "Mick" Strange announced that Rotarians Wayne Scannell and Anthony Zedek will be in charge of the installation of officers on Wednesday, June 30, at Charlie's Restaurant.

Strange announced that George T. Wilkins Sr., past District Rotary Governor, will be the installing officer. He emphasized that the evening, after the installation will be devoted to fun and fellowship and that the evening will be one the Rotarians never will forget.

Richard Ghosich, Bicenennial coordinator, was a guest of the club and discussed the July 3 parade.

Dinner-theater trip for club

Mrs. Louise Orr, 2844 Iowa St., was hostess to the Thursday Evening Bunco Club last week in her home for the final meeting of the season.

Club members will attend a performance tonight at the Plantation Dinner Theater as a concluding party.

Those winning prizes at games were Mesdames Alice Koester, Angie Hartman, Velma Radefeld, Luella Pross and Mrs. Orr.

A dessert course was served to those named and to Mrs. Myrtle Bruns, Mrs. Lorine Menzies and Mrs. Celeste Johnson.

Grade separation in Poag area is ordered

Senator Sam M. Vadalabene, D-Edwardsville, has announced that the Illinois Commerce Commission has entered an order for construction of an overhead grade separation crossing at a Madison County highway, relocated Federal Aid Secondary Route 768, over the tracks of the Norfolk and Western Railway Company at a location 1 1/4 miles east of Illinois Route 111 and a half-mile northeast of Poag.

Vadalabene said, "This order obligates up to $214,500 in grade crossing protection funds. This represents 25 per cent of the total cost for construction of the road, including a grade separation overhead at the Norfolk and Western double main tracks about a half-mile northeast of Poag.

"Fifty per cent of the cost will be provided by the federal government, 25 per cent by the grade crossing protection funds, and 25 per cent by the County of Madison. The 50 per cent being paid by the federal government was previously obtained by the county."

Vadalabene continued, "This will greatly increase safety in the area, since 12 trains per day travel in the area of the proposed grade separation, and an estimated 2,000 to 3,000 automobiles will cross the separation. Large numbers of Southern Illinois University commuter students will utilize the crossing."

The senator said the Commerce Commission in its ruling specified no starting date, but that he intends to encourage

Exhibit traces Corps of Engineers history

The M.V. Sargeant Floyd, the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers Bicentennial exhibit boat, will make a visit to the Alton Waterfront on June 11 and 12 as it journeys on a 22,000-mile tour of the inland waterway system in celebration of the Bicentennial year.

The 126-foot vessel and its state officials to begin the construction as soon as possible.

accompanying barge will be docked at the waterfront at Harris Park at the foot of Henry Street and will be open for public viewing from 9 a.m. until dark. Tours are available for special groups.

The exhibit on the Floyd depicts the 200-year history of accomplishments of the Army Corps of Engineers, including the Panama Canal, the Washington Monument, Cape Canaveral and Yellowstone National Park.

The second deck of the boat has been converted to show a historic and informational review of the Corps, and it includes a theater for a multimedia presentation that is called both dramatic and entertaining. The six-screen show features a 15-minute presentation, a graphic display of the Corps' missions and accomplishments.

"The exhibit is of particular significance to students, since it provides a historic and educational view of the development of civil works in the nation," a spokesman said.

200 attend picnic for crippled, handicapped

A picnic for crippled and handicapped children to celebrate the Bicentennial, was held in late May at Wilson Park by the Granite City Society for Crippled Children. Leg served as chairman of the event.

Over 200 guests and parents were greeted by Anaid Shrine clowns, who shaped balloons into animals and fruit for them. Explorer Post Six, sponsored by Concordia Lutheran Church, entertained with colorful Indian dancing, featuring Don Rivenburgh Jr. and Scott Stille. Pat Alexander, advisor of the post, explained the meaning of the dancing, which included serious and comedy routines. Checkerboard Squares performed in the ice rink under the direction of Bob Boyd. The group included tots to teenagers. Girls were dressed in bright red skirts and the boys were vested in the same red. They exhibited skills in dancing from "square" to "rock."

The Yount School of Baton presented "Little Mouseketeers," tap dancing and acrobatic numbers and baton twirling, with a special performance by Bob Yount, Illinois baton champion.

Mrs. Gertrude Luebbers, president, with members of the Society served refreshments throughout the afternoon.

MRS. AVIS MOORE HOST TO WEE FIVE CLUB
Mrs. Avis Moore, 2850 E. 25th St., hosted a meeting of the Wee Five Club in her home last week. Games were played and a meal was served to Caroline Lux, Della Hagen and Edith Young.

Winners at the games were Della Hagen, Edith Young and Caroline Lux. The next meeting will be held in September at the home of Mrs. Emma Gobel, 2525 Edwards St.

Channel 9 origin link in satellite project

KETC-TV, Channel 9, has been selected as one of four regional originations uplinks in a communication satellite project coordinated by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) and the Southern Educational Communications Association (SECA).

This experiment with satellite distribution of network television programs will originate from the Communications Technology Satellite (CTS), a new space craft launched by NASA in January 1976. It is presently in orbit approximately 23,000 miles above the Galapagos Islands off the coast of South America.

The last of a series of satellites created for a NASA research program in communication satellite development, CTS was designed to present an opportunity for non-profit organizations and agencies to experiment with satellite television broadcasting.

Theater workshops scheduled at SIUE

The department of theater and dance at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will hold two workshops this summer for high school students interested in the world of acting, according to William W. Vihauser, chairman of the department.

Both workshops will begin June 21 and continue through July 2 meeting Mondays through Fridays. An acting workshop, "Acting: A Mind, a Body, a Soul," will meet from 9 a.m. until noon. An interpretation workshop will be held during the afternoons from 1 until 4 p.m. Registration for each workshop will be $30, with non-refundable. All area high school students are eligible to enroll in either of both workshops, including those who will be classified as high school freshmen next fall. Enrollment in each workshop will be limited to 20 participants. Registration will be accepted on a first come, first served basis. The acting workshop will be Peter Beiser, resident professional actor and instructor at SIUE. Students will receive a practical exploration of basic techniques of acting, through relaxation, concentration, movement and vocal exercises. Sylvia Kluth, visiting lecturer at SIUE, will be the instructor for the interpretation workshop. Students will receive a detailed scene study of comedy and drama. Coursework is designed to assist students planning to participate in speech and theater competitive events such as dramatics and debate.

as humorous and dramatic reading, as well as short acting. Additional information may be obtained by contacting William W. Vihauser, chairman of the SIUE department of theater and dance or by calling 618-692-2773.

Ethnic festival bumper stickers

Brightly colored bumper stickers announcing the Madison Ethnic Bicentennial were distributed last week at a meeting in the City Hall of representatives of organizations participating in the event.

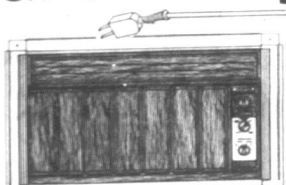

The Bicentennial event is scheduled Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 2, 3, and 4 on the St. Mary School grounds. The event will feature ethnic foods, music and dancing. The next meeting of the planning committee and representatives of organizations participating will be held at 3 p.m. Thursday, June 27, in the Madison City Hall.

Organizations that have not already indicated their desire to participate in what, according to Chairman William Gushoff, can be "the greatest event ever to happen in Madison," are to contact either Gushoff or Frank Papa, phone 876-6266.

satellite will then transmit 20 hours of programming per week to the four regional uplink centers at St. Louis, Columbia, South Carolina, Jackson, Miss., and Austin, Tex. The uplink for St. Louis will be located at KETC-TV's Broadcast Center in South St. Louis County. The CTS-SECA project will provide another programming resource to KETC-TV (in addition to PBS and other sources), and it will allow KETC-TV to send its own programming to other SECA stations. KETC-TV is currently purchasing equipment for the regional uplink which is scheduled to be activated this September.

Howlett wants state to be competitive

Michael J. Howlett, Democratic candidate for governor, said Tuesday, he plans to make economic development a key part of his administration. He addressed the Young Men's Club of Bloomington at a luncheon in the Elks Club.

He said Illinois, and the Great Lakes states generally, have been losing industry elsewhere, especially to the South and Southwest. He noted that he has created an advisory committee, headed by John Kennedy, former state director of General Services, to assemble an economic development program.

To keep it going, he will appoint a task force drawn from all segments of private enterprise, in the new administration, Howlett said.

"In this decade, population in the South and Southwest has been growing six times as fast as in the Great Lakes region."

"As population shifts, so do markets. New markets attract new plants, new businesses, new services—all taxable."

"Growing, taxable economic activity raises revenue to maintain or increase the public services which government provides, without increasing the tax rate."

"Where population declines, or grows more slowly, the tax base goes down. Government then has to raise taxes or reduce services."

"Since 1950, factory jobs in the Great Lakes states have increased only 4.3 per cent, while they have leaped 76 per cent in the Southwest and 20 per cent nationally."

"We must develop a positive program in Illinois to overcome the competition," Howlett stressed. "Economic growth is the best way to avoid an increase in the tax rate."

"The South and Southwest have advantages of warmer weather, cheaper living costs and attractions for pensioners and retirees. But Illinois has advantages too—fertile soil, transportation, skilled labor, expert management, and coal and energy resources."

He said Illinois can compete successfully by aggressively selling its advantages and by showing it is a friend of business and industry.

"We must regain control over state government spending, review every agency to eliminate waste, cut on red tape and unnecessary reporting, and administer the state's regulatory powers fairly, in coordination with federal and local regulation."

"We will let business and industry know we need and want them," he concluded.

Environmental studies master degree offered

A comprehensive picture of the environment and its problems will be studied in a new master of science degree program at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Environmental studies will have two options for students, the dean said. One option will consist of a general program of study designed for students with a broad "generalist" environmental orientation. This option will emphasize the legal and social implications of problems, as well as the technological. "The other option," he continued, "will consist of a science-oriented program for students with engineering, mathematics and natural science backgrounds who have an interest in directly applying science and technology to environmental problems."

According to Richard B. Parker, associate professor of biology at SIUE and one of the faculty members who will be teaching the new program, students will see the social values associated with attacking an environmental problem and will also learn that "you cannot have a totally clean environment because the costs would be too great."

"For instance, we cannot do away with electricity because the social impact would be too great," Parker said. "We will ask practical environmental questions such as: Will the ground support a highway? Is the tax structure of the community able to support a project? And will a new building project disrupt a community?" The teaching faculty for environmental studies will mainly be from the science and social science areas at SIUE, with some teaching help coming from the Schools of Education and Business. Faculty from 10 different departments at SIUE have been instrumental in developing this program, according to Dean Walford. He said many disciplines are involved in solving any single environmental problem. "It is an extremely broad field," he said. "For instance, the whole issue of energy is a big field but it is only one issue. We will look at the much broader base, including water and air pollution, and radiation," he said. As a multi-disciplinary program, the master of science in environmental studies will be administered through the Institute for Urban and Environmental Studies at SIUE. The program is expected to have practical appeal to people interested in the environment, and Walford and Parker believe the graduates will be in demand.

A manpower study of federal agencies has shown a need for administrative and technical personnel in environmental areas, Parker said. A questionnaire mailed in October available. Some graduate assistantships will be given to qualified applicants.

To apply for the program and to obtain more information about environmental studies, students may write to: Environmental Studies, Box 65, SIU Edwardsville, 62025.

$170,000 grant for enzyme level study

A four-year research grant totaling over $170,000 has been awarded to Prof. Michael R. Levy of the department of biological sciences of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for study of enzyme levels and how they are controlled in living organisms.

First year funding of $41,604 for Professor Levy's project has been received by SIUE from the National Institutes of Health. The remainder of the grant, one of the largest research grants ever received by SIUE, will be awarded to the University on a yearly basis. Levy will soon begin work on his project entitled, "Factors Influencing Rates of Enzyme Degradation." He said his research could ultimately lead scientists to answers for the causes of some metabolic diseases that are caused due to a deficiency of enzymes.

Enzymes are chemical substances produced by living cells. They are catalysts, chemical substances that speed up chemical reactions without being used up in the process. According to Levy, these catalysts liberate energy from foodstuffs and are necessary for the digestion of food. All food must be broken down into small molecules so cells can absorb it and use it as a source of energy or for growth.

There are many different kinds of enzymes for various types of foods. In addition, enzymes are required for the formation of body constituents such as proteins, fats, and genetic material. "An organism contains a variety of enzymes in its different tissues," Levy said. "When animals are on certain diets, their bodies will contain different enzymes to break down the types of foods they eat. If an animal that eats a lot of starches changes to a diet high in protein, these enzymes that break down starches decrease and enzymes that convert protein to sugars increase," he said.

In recent years, Levy said, it has been learned that the rates at which enzymes are degraded are regulated. "When the diet of an animal is switched, many of the enzymes which are no longer needed are degraded more rapidly and the enzymes that are needed are degraded less rapidly," he said.

Finding out what enzymes cause enzyme degradation and how to control them may help find a key to curing metabolic diseases caused by malfunctions in enzyme degradation, the biologist explained.

Levy, the winner of the first Senior Research Scholar Award at SIUE, received his Ph.D. degree from the University of California at Los Angeles in zoology and biochemistry. His B.A. and M.A. degrees were both in zoology at UCLA.

Previous to this research project, Levy has drawn national attention from his research on techniques in controlling malaria and his study of living cells.

Associate of arts degree

Miss Joann Margaret Kamblitz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Kamblitz, 3233 Colgate Place, Granite City, has received an associate of arts degree from Cottey College, Nevada, Mo. Cottey College is owned and supported by the PEO Sisterhood, an organization of 19,000 women dedicated to offering young women opportunities in higher education. She was named to the dean's list for the spring semester.

Cottey is a two-year college for women. Miss Kamblitz was one of 141 candidates receiving the arts associate degree during spring ceremonies at Cottey. Kelly Smith Tunney, noted journalist and a Cottey alumna, delivered the commencement address.

Cottey is a liberal arts college with an enrollment of 350. Emphasis at the college is on personal attention for individual students; the student-faculty ratio, one of the lowest in the nation, is 10-1. The cosmopolitan student body comes from 40 states, five foreign countries and one Canadian province. More than 90 per cent of Cottey graduates go on to four-year colleges for their baccalaureate degrees.

Armyworms in some wheat fields

By RON CORNWELL
Agricultural Adviser
Armyworms are present in some wheat fields in Madison County. Bob Henschen, Alhambra area farmer, and I were examining the Extension wheat plots last week. Several small armyworms could be found in the wheat plots and surrounding field. Bob indicates that wheat maturity appears to be one to two weeks ahead of past years. The armyworm situation is nothing to get excited about at the present time, but wheat fields should be watched for armyworm development. To find armyworms, shake the wheat plants vigorously and look on the ground for the worms. Be sure to examine the thick or lodged spots in the field first. If you don't find armyworms in these areas, they are probably not present in the field. At the present time damage from armyworms is not visible. The damage is confined to occasional leaf feeding. The situation could change rapidly so fields should be watched. Control is justified when you find six or more half-grown armyworms per linear foot of row. Chemicals suggested for armyworm control are Toxaphene, Malathion or Dylor. Livestock farmers may not want to use Toxaphene since Toxaphene treated straw cannot be fed to livestock. Albert Brandt, Alhambra area, reports aphids being present in wheat. Aphids have been present in wheat for the past month. Aphids are soft-bodied, greenish-black plant lice that suck sap from the plants. Research indicates that profitable treatment for aphid control is very questionable. Chemicals recommended for aphid control include Malathion or Methyl Parathion. Be sure to

The wheat variety plot for Madison County was planted last fall by Bob Henschen. The plot is located on the Joseph Wetzel farm which is two miles north of the Junction of Rt. 140 and Rt. 160 on the New Douglas road. The plot is on the east side of the road.

Eleven wheat varieties were included in this year's plot. The soft wheat varieties include Abbe, Arthur 71, Blueboy II, Doublecrop, and Oasis. The hard wheat varieties include Centurk, Gage, Homestead, Parker, Sentinel and Tyson.
Variety signs were placed on the plots this past week. The general public is encouraged to stop by and examine the variety plots.

A telephone survey to various areas of the county indicates a wide range of wheat conditions this year. Wheat Streak Mosaic has been common in wheat in Madison County this spring. Roland Malan, Highland area hog and grain farmer, considers the wheat to be in fair condition this year as compared to excellent condition last year. He indicated the wheat was maturing a lot quicker this year than last year. Some fields that looked in poor condition earlier this spring have looked better since the weather warmed.

Leonard Schaefer, farmer in Chouteau township, indicates a wide range of conditions in wheat fields in the American Bottoms area. Disease has been very severe in some fields. You have one field that looks terrible with the field beside it looking okay.

Leonard feels a lot of the wheat in the bottom area won't make one-third the normal yield. He indicates those fields with a higher rate of nitrogen look better than fields with low nitrogen. The heads are not filling in many fields.
The wheat looks in good condition in the northeastern part of the county, according to Ron Hermann, located in the New Douglas area. The wheat heads seem to be filling in most fields. The wheat is maturing early. Ron estimates wheat harvest will start at least one week ahead of normal this year in his area.

Edwardsville offered grant

Gov. Dan Walker has announced that the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency has offered $1,551,800 to the City of Edwardsville as part of the agency's sewage system construction grant program.
The grant is for a three-stage project that will determine the best method of treating sewage from the Dunlap Lake area, prepare final plans and blueprints and construct necessary improvements to the sewer system.

Total eligible cost of the project is estimated to be $2,080,000. Based on this figure, Edwardsville will provide $517,000, or 25 per cent.
"We are offering this grant to Edwardsville in an effort to help control water pollution and to improve the environment," said Dr. Richard H. Brice, head, director of the Illinois EPA. "It will help insure a substantial improvement of water quality in Illinois. It also will create new jobs and improve economic growth opportunities."

Deterding to return as South basketball coach

Don Deterding, athletic coordinator of Granite City High School North, was selected Tuesday night from among 112 applicants as head coach for the Granite City High School South basketball squad for the 1977-78 school year.

Immediately upon being informed of his appointment by the Granite City Board of Education, Coach Deterding called a meeting for 6 p.m. Friday in the South gymnasium of all prospective Warrior basketball players to discuss hours in which the gymnasium can be made available for those wishing to practice individually during the summer.

Deterding is a former Warrior basketball mentor, having started here during the 1967-68 school year. He led the squad into the state tournament in 1971, when the Warriors lost to Park in the first round.

In 1972, South-then Granite City High School—used for the Southwestern Conference championship.

Deterding retired from coaching after the 1972-73 school year, partially due to illness and partially due to the division into two high schools which, he felt, would weaken the total athletic program.

"In the last three years, I missed coaching so much that when this opportunity came along with a chance to get back in, I jumped for it," he told the Press-Record.

He said his health is no longer a problem and added, "I really feel I'm coming back as a better coach than I was before."

"I think it has been beneficial to sit back three years and watch from the sidelines from a little different perspective," Joseph Fletcher, director of athletics for the school district, commented after the Board of Education selected Deterding Tuesday night. "I think they made a very good choice. We had 112 applications for the post of which we interviewed 14 candidates. I presented the best five to the board and all were very good."

"We made a thorough search of all of the people available and checked them out carefully. No one can say we just reached out and grabbed one."

"Of all the applicants, Don Deterding was selected and I think that speaks highly of his abilities."

Deterding replaces Bryan Wilkinson, who resigned, his coaching assignment. "I really thought Bryan was a good coach," Deterding said, adding, "I think a lot of things have to be changed, since some of them didn't work. But Bryan had some good ideas and was a good coach."

Wilkinson is remaining with the school district as a teacher. Deterding said he is going to emphasize defense in the upcoming school year while urging the players to open up the offense a little.

"I think you are going to see the team running a little more than when I was there," he said, adding, "I was coaching before, the idea being to put more pressure on the opponents' defense," the coach commented.

"A great deal of time is going to be spent on shooting technique—an area where we traditionally have been weak. I feel there is an excellent talent here."

"We normally are not blessed by the tall kids. Collinsville has, but I think we are going to be more flexible than Collinsville and our other opponents next year."

"I played ball for Virgil Fletcher (at Collinsville) in 1962 and made all-state. I learned quite a bit there and patterned a great deal of my basketball coaching after him defensively."

his bachelor degree in physical education.

He was an all-state team member at Ventura and earned an honorable mention for the All-American squad at Southern Illinois.

He also set every school basketball record while at the Missouri school.

He received his master's degree from Eastern Illinois University, Charleston, in 1965 and then coached at Effingham High School, taking a team with a 28-2 record to state in 1967.

"They lost in the first round, but they were all juniors. When I left Effingham, I left behind an experienced team of juniors, still together and with state tournament experience," he related.

Previous coaching experience included two years at Mineral High School, Mineral, Mo., where there only 34 students and a basketball team that had not won a game in three years.

"We finished with a 7-17 record, which was very proud of from a school with an enrollment of only 34," Deterding commented.

He also coached three years at Dexter (Mo.) High School, taking the squad to the state in 1961. From Dexter, he went to Effingham and then joined the Warrior staff during the 1967-68 school year.

"Fletcher has one system. He fits the personnel to his system. I like to adjust my system to the personnel. I do hope to have the kind of discipline here Coach Fletcher has, however," Deterding noted.

Deterding graduated from Collinsville High School in 1962 and played basketball for Michigan State University, Ventura Junior College in California and Southeast Missouri State University, Cape Girardeau, Mo., while receiving

First sports banquet in Madison a success

The first Madison Senior High School "all sports banquet" held in late May in the gymnasium was deemed a success, according to Principal Richard Corbin, who said, "It was a perfect example how a catalytic force, such as athletics, can give people an opportunity to share a common experience."

Over 400 diners were served to athletes and their parents, members of the Band, Pep Club, Cheerleading Squad, Chorus and representatives from the college and professional athletic circles.

Entertainment included dinner music by the John Fornesswink Trio, and a comedy skit with the MHS chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Dolores Folkers.

Banquet expenses were met by the Board of Education and B & E Lumber & Hardware. Barnett's Pest Control, Ben Franklin Stores, Bob's TV, Street & Appliance, Crofton Home, Dairy Queen (Madison), Daley's Paint, Walpaper & Gifts, Duffin Brothers Lumber Co., Edray Foods, First National Bank in Madison, Friedman's Hardware & Furniture, George's Thrift Market, Glick's Department Store (Madison), Goff & Dittman Florida, Gossie's, Granger City Trust & Savings, Junior Service Club of Madison, Lahey Funeral Home, Lee & Andy's Towing Service, Madison Lawn Equipment Co., Nornberg's Department Store, Red Crown Liquor Store, Reese Drugs (Madison), Schermer Brothers Market.

Sedlack Funeral Home, Solar TV & Radio Service, Sterling TV & Appliance, Tony's Restaurant, Tri-City Printing Co., Wayne's Mens Wear and Attorney William Kunder.

Corbin said, "This display of community spirit made it possible for all of us to enjoy a pleasant and rewarding evening together as friends of Madison High School. Everyone worked hard particularly the cafeteria staff and the leadership of Mrs. Delores Economy."

"It was an example of the great spirit we have at Madison High."

Opening the day's schedule, at 2 p.m., will be the Midwest regional winner, Southeast Missouri State of Cape Girardeau, against the East representative, Sacred Heart College of Bridgeport, Conn.

In the middle game, it'll be California Polytechnical U. of Pomona versus the Livingston (Ala.) University Tigers beginning at 5 p.m.

If experience means anything in a tournament, Florida Southern should be an overwhelming favorite to win the crown. The Florida school has won the division II baseball championship three times, starting in 1971, repeating in '72 and again last year, 1975.

It won't be the first meeting between SIUE and Florida Southern. They battled it out in the spring of 1975 down in Florida, and Lee's Lads, after holding a 7-0 lead, were edged by the Moccasins in the final inning rally. Consequently, most of the current SIUE

Chicago athletes will be Cougars

Two of the 10 best school basketball players in the City of Chicago, both from Roosevelt High, have signed letters of intent to enroll at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville this fall.

The two Rough Riders are Danny Miller and Terry Baggett.

Miller, a 6-5, 210-pound rebounder, is 18 years old and was a mainstay of Coach Manny Weindorf's team, Roosevelt, for two years. As a junior, he averaged 23.7 points per game; as a senior, a started player, he dropped to a still respectable 25.1 average.

Baggett, 6-2 ball-handler, was also a two-year starter on the Roosevelt team and led the Blue and Gold in assists in his senior year with a game. A consistent scorer, he averaged 14 points a game.

Rose to 'run' for cancer

Richard "Rick" Rose of Granite City won't be able to break another world record Saturday, but his "run for cancer" to benefit the Fay Bosworth memorial fund will provide him deep personal satisfaction and considerable help to the Madison County Unit of the American Cancer Society.

Rose bettered a world record Sunday for running the fastest 100 miles in history, setting a mark of 11 hours, 27 minutes and 57 seconds.

The previous record, set Oct. 6-7, 1972 by D. Kay of Durban, South Africa, was 11:56:56, according to the Guinness Book of Records.

Inclement weather which dumped inches of water on the Granite City High School South track, where he was to attempt to break the world record for non-stop running—121 miles and 440 yards—set by Jared R. Beards of Westport, Md., in 1969, forced Rose to make his try along Route 460.

MRS. ARTHUR HATTERSLEY the former Miss Melissa King, who was married in an evening ceremony at the Second Baptist Church. She is a daughter of Mrs. Dillie Kimbro, 2224 Dewey Ave.

Miss Melissa King and Arthur Hattersley wed

Miss Melissa King, a daughter of Mrs. Dillie Kimbro, 2224 Dewey Ave., and Arthur E. Hattersley, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hattersley, 3448 Terminal Ave., were united in marriage May 8 at the Second Baptist Church, 2100 Illinois Ave.

The Rev. B. E. Dutton, officiated at the double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock in the evening.

Prior to the arrival of the bride, the party began with "We Only Just Begun," "The Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer." She was accompanied by organist Mrs. Betty Grote.

William Kimbro, an uncle of the bride, escorted her down the white-carpeted aisle and gave her in marriage. She wore a full-length white organza gown fashioned with a high neckline and a bodice of ruffled lace. Lace motifs were etched with pearls and appliqued on the full skirt, which were cuffed with wide bands of matching lace.

A Juliet cap secured her melody-length, lace-bordered veil and she held a bouquet of yellow roses, white carnations and baby's breath.

The maid of honor was Miss Vicky Nance and the bridesmaids were Miss Kathy Justice and Miss Nancy Sanders. They selected dresses of yellow floral print organza over taffeta, designed with ruffled collars which extended over the shoulders to form cap sleeves. The V-neckline was edged with a matching ruffle and a gathered flounce encircled the hemline.

Mark Hadley attended the groom as best man, Ralph Lichenbrock and Richard Connolly served as groomsmen and Gary Lear was the usher.

Wanda Atkins attended the guest book at a reception held in the church fellowship hall after the service.

The newly married couple is now residing in Granite City.

St. Bartholomew's Episcopal Church, 22nd Street and Grand Avenue, will celebrate its 75th anniversary at various programs during the year beginning Sunday, the Day of Pentecost, when the Rt. Rev. Albert W. Hillstead, D.D., bishop of Springfield, will visit the church.

The bishop will celebrate the solemn mass, preach and administer the sacrament of confirmation for a group of children and adults at 10:30 a.m. Sunday.

Following the service a luncheon banquet honoring the bishop, confirmands and the "Parish Jubilee" will be held at the Collinsville Holiday Inn starting at 1:30 p.m., according to the Rev. Walter Lear, pastor.

During the 10:30 service, Miss Elizabeth Ann Ledbetter, the parish organist, will present several musical numbers, including "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring" and "Now Thank We All Our God," both by J. S. Bach. Kevin Nicol will assist Miss Ledbetter at the processional which will be the "Trumpet Voluntary" by Jeremiah Clarke. In the offertory, Nicol will play the First Movement from the "Trumpet Sonata" by A. Corelli.

During the time of Communion, Mrs. John Mefford and Mrs. William Ledbetter will sing a duet, "I Heard the Voice of Jesus," by Thomas Tallis. Later in the year another service will be held honoring the founders and early members of St. Bartholomew's Church.

The public is invited to attend all services at St. Bartholomew's, which include daily celebrations of the Holy Eucharist, as well as a special celebration on Saturday evenings and two services on Sunday, the Rev. Lear said.

Girl Scout camp registrations due Neighborhood chairmen of District 4, River Bluffs Girl Scout Council, Judy Donaldson, Ruth Dolovic, Bobbie Ponder, Margo Clements, Barbara Phillips and Judy Nichols, met at the council office last week with District Chairman Mary Parrish to review plans for summer activities.

At the session, Mrs. Parrish stressed that local girls planning to attend day camp, core camping and established camp should return their reservations as soon as possible.

Established camp will be at Camp Butterfly, Farmington, Mo., in three sessions — June 21-27; July 6-12 and July 19-25.

All adults are invited to a June Jubilee at Camp Butterfly from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday to view the facility and participate in various outdoor activities.

Overnight camping will be available at nearby Egan State Park for families who wish to attend Sunday programs, planned from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Core troop camping, set Aug. 1-4 and Aug. 1-6, is designed to provide opportunities for troops to camp with their own leaders, with the help of a core staff of trained resource personnel, especially trained in outdoor living and camping.

Day camp will be conducted at Torqua in Edwardsville for all District 4 scouts, July 28-30, with Dorothy Hinton, 1830 Third St., Madison, serving as director and registrar. Nancy Wickham, 2822 Benton Ave., will be assistant director. All registrations and a $5 fee are to be mailed to Miss Hinton.

Mrs. Susanne Nasir resigned from the board of directors and camping service as she will be moving from the area, it was reported.

Mrs. Edna Bono was appointed council co-chairman of the sales and Mrs. Ruth Dolovic as Neighborhood 3 chairman. Plans will be made during the summer for a District recognition dinner on Oct. 26.

After the meeting a movie, entitled "You're 11," was shown, followed by a discussion. The next session will take place Aug. 23.

Child Abuse is Trio topic

"Child Abuse in America" was the topic of a major lesson presented at a meeting Tuesday of the Trio Unit, Madison County Homemakers Extension Association, held at Hope Lutheran Church.

Mrs. Louise Anderson introduced Mrs. Helene Kettelhut, who stressed any person witnessing or knowing of a child abuse situation should notify the Illinois Department of Family Services, P.O. Box 447, Maryville, Ill. 62062.

Mrs. Kettelhut said those notifying Family Services about child abuse will not be involved in the situation, but can alert authorities so proper steps to protect the child can be taken.

Included on the program was demonstrations given by three members of the 56 men's 4-H Club, which Trio Unit sponsors.

Karen Spencer gave a talk on nutrition, Tracey Johnson showed how to make brownies and Shannon Busse prepared a tossed salad with French dressing.

Mrs. Ellen Ozanich presided at the business session and an election of officers for the coming year was held.

Elected were: Mrs. Louise Smith, chairman; Mrs. Ruth

Brave, vice-chairman; and Mrs. Alice Pfoender, secretary. An installation ceremony was conducted by Mrs. Clara Schilling.

Mrs. Ozanich announced the July meeting will feature planning and using mini-meals.

All members were asked to bring a salad for the 12 noon luncheon.

The Trio Unit will deliver mobile meals during the week of June 28 and a session on Social Security and Medicare will be presented June 29 at the Home Bureau office in Edwardsville, it was reported.

The annual Homemakers Camp is scheduled Aug. 1 at Jacksonville, Ill., offering a variety of activities including craft sessions, swimming and hiking.

Mrs. Helen Robertson said the unit now has 54 registered members.

Hostesses Mrs. Anderson and Lucy Stewart served a dessert course to 27 members.

High school monitors program to continue

The Granite City Board of Education voted Tuesday night to continue the high school campus monitors program for the third consecutive year.

Under the program, two campus monitors are employed at Granite City High School South and one is employed at GCHS North. The pay is $7,500 per year, plus cost of living bonuses.

The program started during the 1974-75 school year under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) of the federal government which reimbursed the district a portion of the cost from federal Manpower grant funds.

Last year, the school district assumed the cost of the program. The campus monitors act as security monitors in the schools and answer directly to the principal and assistant principals of each building. Principal James Dumont of South told the board the monitors have been a great asset in maintaining order in the schools. He said there have been a few complaints of overly zealous actions by a monitor, but those problems have been corrected.

He said some students feel the monitors are undercover narcotics agents, "but that is bound to happen when the monitors arrest a few kids with marijuana," Dumont stated.

Dale C. Rea, assistant to the superintendent of schools, said, "I believe they have provided a valuable service in campus and hallway control in the most economically effective manner." He recommended continuing the program.

Superintendent of Schools B. J. Davis concurred with the recommendation and said personnel and salary recommendations will be offered at the board's next meeting, which has been set for June 22.

The board approved installation of a slag walkway from the parking lot at Granite City High School North south of the tennis courts and to the end of the football field.

The walkway will aid persons parking in the lot to reach the football field without having to walk through mud. The walkway was one of the recommendations to help halt illegal parking along Morrison Road during football games.

In addition to moving the date of the next meeting from June 15 to June 22, the board agreed to have only one regular meeting in July—on July 13.

Tully A. Heubner, director of business affairs for the school district, reported on the possibility the district may have to sell tax anticipation warrants if taxes are not received by late July or early August.

"As you are aware, due to the late tax distribution, it appears that we will not have enough money on hand to meet our summer obligations. This means that tax anticipation warrants may have to be issued," he told the board.

He said warrants could become necessary as early as the end of this month, if state aid reimbursement checks are delayed. Heubner said he intends to sell only enough in warrants each two weeks to meet the current operating expenses.

The warrants must be paid back when taxes are received and must be paid back before any taxes can be spent for other purposes.

Heubner requested permission of the board to begin making arrangements with local banks for the sale of warrants, should it be necessary. He noted such arrangements were made in 1973 and the necessary legal papers were drawn, but taxes were received in time to avoid selling the warrants.

He noted the legal papers drafted at that time can be used this year, with slight updating.

Heubner also received authorization from the board to file the necessary papers for a grant of $151,587 which has been approved by the state's Capital Development Board to help retire bonds from the 1969 bond issue.

A required resolution was approved which guarantees the $151,587 will be abated from the 1976 tax levy.

The board accepted a recommendation that, due to a review of auditing and operating procedures now under way in the central business office, the district's auditor, C. J. Schlusser & Co., be requested to approve continuing work one month-to-month basis, rather than entering into an annual audit contract.

An accident in which a crossing signal in front of Stallings School on Highway 162 was struck by a car and was uprooted May 15 was discussed by the board and Heubner was requested to draw up specifications and seek bids on the cost of replacing the outdated signals with crossing signs and yellow flashing beacons.

The board also agreed to refer the accident to the secretary of state's office to determine if restitution should be sought for about $281 expended temporarily repairing the lights plus the cost of permanent replacement or substitution of another system.

The board rejected the idea of full traffic signals at that location, noting few students there now have to cross the highway and the cost for signals would be $16,000. Heubner also was requested to prepare specifications and seek bids on replacing the Mitchell School crossing lights which no longer meet the state specifications. Similar signs and flashing beacons are envisioned at a cost of about $2,500 for each school.

PURSE SNATCHING

A boy about 15 snatched the purse of Rose Rodgers, 1514 Second Street, Madison, while she was sitting on the porch of her home, she reported at 5 p.m. Tuesday. She said the boy first walked by and asked her a question. Later he approached, grabbed the purse and ran, she said. The purse contained $75 in cash, a check and credit cards.

40 judges to tour two Menard centers

More than 40 Illinois judges will "go to jail" on Friday when they will visit the Correctional Center at Menard, and the Mental Health Center at Chester.

The Menard Center, located in southwestern Illinois, is a maximum security correctional institution which houses offenders who have been convicted of misdemeanor and felony offenses, and situated in the center complex is the Psychiatric Center which provides psychiatric treatment for felons and persons adjudged sexually dangerous. The Mental Health Center in Chester houses defendants found unfit to stand trial as well as voluntarily committed persons.

This is the tenth tour by Illinois judges in a series of continuing programs to familiarize the judiciary with the state's correctional institutions and rehabilitation programs which will be conducted by the Supreme Court's Administrative Office of the Illinois Courts in cooperation with Allyn Sneloff, director of the Illinois Department of Corrections, and in cooperation with the Illinois Department of Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities.

Scheduled to participate in the tour from this area are Circuit Judge Horace Calvo of the Third Circuit, and Appellate Court Judge George Moran. Both are from Granite City.

At the center, the judges will meet with Director Dinslaff, Thomas Israel, warden of Menard, Dr. Craine, administrator of the Menard Psychiatric Center, and Peter Kotson, chairman of the Parole and Pardon Board. The judges will then tour the center and visit the buildings in the complex.

After an "institution lunch," the judges will continue the tour and then assemble to hear Director Sneloff and the center staff. Following the discussion, the judges will then visit the new Mental Health Center at Chester. Dr. Terry Brelje, superintendent of the center, will introduce the judges to the newest major mental health facility in Illinois.

CRIME IN PROGRESS?

Unknown to members of Explorer Post 10-4 a stranger (Gary Schneider) walked in to their meeting, pulled a weapon from beneath his jacket and fired three (blank) shots at a member of the post committee. The "criminal" turned and strolled down the stairs and out of the building. The Explorers then began the first in a series of crime scene investigation training.

BURGLARS SPOTTED

Granite City police were told this week that a youth had been seen inside the office area of Granite City Dodge, 1913 Madison Ave. after closing time. When officers checked they found a broken window at the rear of the north building, but found no one inside. Officials said a glass clock worth about $50 is the only thing known missing.

CAR HITS POLE

Curtis Beatty, 16, of 2712 Angela Drive, was injured when an auto he was driving in the 4000 block of Stearns Avenue, slid at the curve and struck a utility pole, downing the pole. This week Beatty was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for an abrasion to his left arm and injuries to his head and right knee. X-rays were taken and he was released.

CRIME SCENE INVESTIGATION. Madison Detective Thomas Voloski, standing at right, listens as members of Squad One of Explorer Post 10-4 discuss the "shooting" that has just taken place in their meeting. Out of 21 points of identification, three of the four squads in the post scored 16 correct, with Squad Two scoring 19. Detective Voloski complimented the future police officers on their awareness and accuracy.

Two MHS students have key roles in 4-H meet

Two Madison High School students, Addie Heard of Madison and Angelia Allen who also are active Madison County 4-H programs, will have key roles in the 1976 4-H Conference Program which will be held June 22-25 on the Urbana campus of the University of Illinois.

More than 1,000 young people are expected to participate in the program titled "Inside Out." Addie has spent many weekends this winter and spring serving on the 15-member team to plan the 1976 conference. She is working on the publicity and documentation aspects of the program and helped to develop a promotional slide presentation about the conference which is being used throughout the state to encourage participation.

At the conference, she will take pictures to be used in a slide presentation during the closing assembly.

While Miss Heard is busy taking pictures, Miss Allen will be working as a group facilitator. Through the direction of Miss Allen and other group facilitators, participants in the conference will learn techniques of self-disclosure by putting thoughts into words and ideas into actions, leaders said.

Through a series of workshops and discussions, the young people will learn to identify their own needs and how they react to the needs of others. Also, in the session on group behavior, the young people will learn how they react in various groups. And because all react differently in different groups, the participants will use the technique of role playing to determine the various roles one can assume in various situations, conference planners noted.

Other topics on the program include "Who's In There?" (on self), "Take a Drive" (on motivation), "A Plastic, Fantastic Gizmo" (on communications), and "The World's a Pair of Blue Jeans and You're a Double Knit" (on group interaction).

Singers sought for 'Music Under Stars'

Rehearsals for high school students and adults wishing to take part in the "Music Under the Stars" summer choral program will start tonight from 7 to 9 o'clock in the vocal room at Granite City High School South.

All persons interested in participating are invited to attend, Mrs. Mary Ann Bright, program director, said today. Practice sessions for elementary school children through 8th grade are scheduled from 1 to 2 p.m. today, with the next rehearsal set for Monday at the same hour.

Both the older level singers and the younger will rehearse at the above times each Monday and Thursday, Mrs. Bright said. Attendance at all rehearsals is not required and people may join at any time during the summer, she advised. Auditions are not held and everyone is welcome, she said.

The choruses will present four concerts this summer at the Wilson Park rink pavilion. Further information about the program may be obtained by calling the director at 876-2010, or by coming to a rehearsal.

Road. The local musician, teacher and shop owner acquired the drums through arrangements made by the Slingerland Drum Co. of Chicago.

Fornasewski received the drums personally from Rich when the latter was guest soloist with the Millikin-Decatur Civic Symphony Orchestra.

Rich and his Trio was appearing at the Millikin University School of Music in Decatur. The musicians performed special arrangements of George Gershwin's "Strike Up the Band" and Leonard Bernstein's "West Side Story II," arranged by Tommy Newson, with the full orchestra under the direction of Dr. Ronald D. Gregory.

Rich arrived early in Decatur for a rehearsal from New York City, where he had just completed a two-week engagement at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel. "The rehearsal was most interesting and memorable," Fornasewski said. "I think I have seen Buddy Rich in person several dozen times and each time he just overwhelms me. It's hard to believe what you see, he is just so great," the local man commented.

by appearing with his parents in a vaudeville act.

He began as a single performer at 7 years, touring theaters in the United States and Australia billed as "Traps, The Drum Wonder."

Rich became the second highest paid child star, topped only by Jackie Coogan, and still holds the record. He received over $2,500 a week when a few years old.

He also is listed as the highest paid "side man" in history (an accompanist or performer without star billing), having been paid in excess of $100,000 per year while playing with the Harry James Orchestra.

Rich received his first "big" break in 1938 in New York and joined Artie Shaw's band. Later, he became a member of the Tommy Dorsey Orchestra and had as his room-mate an aspiring singer, a youthful Frank Sinatra.

He played for many years with Harry James and in 1966 started his own band.

Fornasewski, also a drummer, has invited the public to view Rich's former drum set at the store.

BURGLARY ON STATE
A window in the front door was broken and the door unlocked by reaching through the window to gain entry to the home of J. C. Cochrane, 2730 State St., it was reported at 6:45 p.m. Tuesday. All the rooms, closets and drawers were ransacked and several plants and eggs were thrown around the rooms. Known missing are six silver dollars, an $80 clock radio and an antique Springfield Army rifle.

DRUMMER BUDDY RICH (left) autographs each drum for John Fornasewski, local music shop owner and musician. The latter acquired the drum set when Rich appeared in concert with the Millikin-Decatur Civic Symphony Orchestra at Millikin University. The drums may be seen at John Fornasewski Music Store and Drum Shop, 3009 Nameoki Road. Rich began his professional career at the age of 18 months in his parents' vaudeville act and later played with such greats as Tommy Dorsey, Artie Shaw and Harry James.

Burglaries at two schools

Two Granite City elementary schools were broken into and burglarized, school officials discovered Tuesday afternoon.

At 2:35 p.m. Tuesday, police were told Emerson School, 20th and Benton streets, had been entered by pulling a screen from the west window, opening the window and crawling through.

The principal's office was believed the only room entered and a $100 adding machine is the only thing known missing from that office.

At 3:30 p.m., a burglary at Narnock School, 1800 Ponton Road, was reported in which a quantity of bottled soft drinks was the only thing believed stolen.

Entry was gained by breaking a window to room 9. A world globe was thrown through a window in room 10 and a window in room 11 was believed broken with a baseball bat.

The unlocked soft drink machine in the teacher's lounge was opened and the soda taken. The world globe was recovered on the baseball diamond.

Leadership, dedication part of Kerner legacy in state

Press-Record Springfield Bureau — Friends of former Gov. Otto Kerner will remember him as the popular, friendly chief executive of Illinois and as the able chairman of a presidentially appointed task force which sought the reasons for a national trauma, racial violence.

Obscurely understood and concentrated to a great extent on the tragic last few years of Mr. Kerner's life, when he was convicted in a racketeer stock bribery case, lost his federal judgeship and spent several months in prison.

But for most of those who knew Otto Kerner during the many years he served his country as a soldier, jurist and governor, the good he did should live after him far longer than the stain which marred his record.

The Kerner administration, from 1961 to 1969, led the state in new directions in higher education and mental health. The Board of Higher Education was created and the statewide system of community colleges was born during those years.

Utilizing construction funds voted in a statewide bond issue, the Department of Mental Health abandoned the concept of warehousing mental health patients in massive institutions and instead concentrated on treatment in community-based clinics. It was an approach that set the pace for the nation in treatment of mental illness.

Before he was elected governor, Mr. Kerner earned a reputation as a public servant, presiding as a Cook County judge. In a city where the judiciary is often pictured as cold, officious and uncaring, he was known for the concern about people which he demonstrated in the Family Court.

A National Guard officer, he had an exemplary military record, including overseas service during World War II.

A special challenge to his talents came in 1967, when President Lyndon Johnson appointed him as chairman of the President's Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence. Racial conflict had been a hallmark of the 1960s, and this body was asked by the president to identify the causes of violence and recommend ways to prevent it.

The commission became known as the Kerner Commission and its report was called the Kerner Report. It was hailed as an objective study of race relations in America.

Early in 1968, Gov. Kerner accepted appointment to the seat his father had held on the U.S. Court of Appeals. He served there until his trial.

Whatever his transgression in the race track stock purchase — he contended to the end of his life that he was innocent — at the end of his long years of public service, he was paid his debt to society, and they welcomed him home with dinners in Springfield and Chicago. Those dinners focused on the accomplishments of Otto Kerner in his long years of public service.

That is the way we hope he will be known in history — as a warm, gentle human being who gave constructive leadership to his state, dedication to his country, and friendship to the hosts of people who came to know him.

Below-estimate bids bolster optimism on sewer program

Low bids opened May 26 on a comprehensive sewer improvement program in Collinsville total $4,834,518, more than $600,000 less than the advance estimate of $5 1/2 million.

This is highly encouraging in the Quad-Cities, where a major sanitary sewer installation program has been planned and where every dollar saved on the project cost of the local program.

Correspondence to the Madison County Board of Quad-City area sewer committee from Thomas B. Platland, vice president, Municipal Finance Division, Wasturick & Brown, sewer bond specialists retained by the county, notes that "our firm purchased the $1,060,000, Calumet, Ill. Special Service Area No. 1 bond issue April 26 at a net interest rate of 5.93 per cent."

"We bought this issue with the understanding that the local banks would take the last six maturities, which amounted to approximately half of the issue, inasmuch as we are considering a much larger issue for (Madison County Sanitary Sewer) Area No. 1. We are not sure that this amount of commitment can be locally obtained and are recommending that the Area No. 1 bond issue be structured along the lines of the 20- and 25-year schedules to take advantage of known buying interest in the longer years.

You may wish to continue using the 15-year information to increase the most conservative view of annual costs."

While an eight per cent maximum has been listed here and most of the cost projections utilize a 7 1/2 per cent interest rate estimate, the committee believes an even lower rate is likely when competitive bids are opened. If this proves to be true, and the rate is below 7 1/2 per cent, the estimated cost figures can be reduced when actual tax bills are determined.

Illinois school stance more responsible than Missouri

Post-Dispatch comment — Two new studies of public education show Missouri's low position in support and a much higher one for Illinois.

As to elementary and secondary schooling, the National Education Association says, Missouri ranks thirty-first and Illinois fourteenth in the per capita amount spent on pupils. For 1974, the figure for this year at $1,200, and for Illinois $1,452, while the national average is $1,390.

In addition, the figures may be judged by what the states could do: Missouri is 117-teenth and Illinois third in personal income.

As for higher education, the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching judges states by their effort and concern. By effort is meant the percentage of state personal income spent on higher education, and by concern, expenditures for each full-time, equivalent student.

Missouri ranks thirty-eighth in effort and twenty-fourth in concern. Illinois's ranking in each case is twenty-fourth and fourth. More than a river divides the way the two states look at the need for education.

Diverse state legislation

By MAURICE W. SCOTT
Executive Vice President
Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

What was thought to be a fiscal 1977 budget and revenue session of the Illinois General Assembly is becoming a full-blown session.

More legislation than just fiscal bills and emergency measures is being considered. On May 6, the House Revenue Committee approved on party lines (14-7) two bills sought by the administration to speed up collection of income and sales taxes.

One of the bills, House Bill 3655, proposes that large retailers—those paying over $1,000 per month in sales taxes—make four weekly payments during the month of tax liability.

Provisions under present law for a deposit mechanism have been maintained in the bill. This new procedure would allow $1 million to the state's general revenue fund during fiscal 1977.

House Bill 3649 proposes that employers pay withholding taxes withheld from employees within three days of specified accumulation dates for those employees whose withholding taxes exceed $2,000 on the specified dates.

It is estimated that this bill would add about $35 million to the general revenue fund during fiscal 1977. However, net revenue would be on a one-shot basis, such increases would not be in the offing for fiscal 1978.

The Senate Rules Committee decided May 6 to allow debate this session on 29 bills designed to change the state's workers' compensation laws.

The Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois is working with 37 other associations and groups to bring provisions of the Workmen's Compensation Act and Occupational Diseases Act, passed by the General Assembly in 1975, into line with recommendations of the National Commission on State Workmen's Compensation Laws.

Some of the bills approved for debate by the Senate Rules Committee do this, but others propose to expand such benefits even further.

Constitutional amendment proposals to the new Illinois Constitution before this session of the legislature are dead.

A provision in the Constitution, Article XIV, Section 2(a), states that amendments approved by the General Assembly shall be submitted to the electors at the general election next occurring at least six months after such legislative approval.

There is not a period of time equivalent to six months. There are 19 bills that affect tax rate limitations for property tax funds that may be levied by local governmental units and increase such limits without voter approval.

Taxpayers will soon be receiving 1975 property tax bills, payable in 1976, and there will be some hefty increases in a majority of the counties. The General Assembly members had a good record on this type of bill in 1975 and lacked such bills.

Road district bridges are in poor shape in many rural districts. A bill has been introduced, Senate Bill 1750, to create a new District Bridge Fund as a part of the Statewide Distributive Fund to such districts for bridge construction and repair, the

Senator wants Alton locks, dam repaired

(Second of two articles)

U.S. Senator Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin hopes to secure Senate Commerce Committee approval this month of this bill, S. 3425, to bar replacement of Alton Locks and Dam 26 until additional economic and environmental studies are carried out.

Hearings on the lock and dam project also are scheduled for June by the Senate Public Works Committee.

He has voiced concern that the replacement might represent a step toward expanding "lock capacity and deepening the navigation channel for the length of the river."

He has told the Senate: "On March 15, 1976, the Corps of Engineers' Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors issued a report on Locks and Dam 26."

"The board recommended replacement of the existing structure with a new dam and a 1,200-foot lock now, to be followed by studies for a second lock after construction has begun, two miles south of the present facility."

"The board states that a second lock is necessary, but the exact specifications would await further environmental and economic evaluation."

The Corps proposal is inconsistent with national transportation policy and will only encourage the disintegration of the Midwest and Western railroad network through the continued and illadvised subsidization of one transportation mode at the expense of a competing mode.

The Interstate Commerce Act of 1887, as amended, outlines this nation's basic transportation policy. The act provides for fair and impartial regulation of all modes of transportation. However, the inland waterway mode has managed to get itself exempted from basic regulation.

"From the very beginning, competing modes were at an economic disadvantage, due to this exemption from regulation."

In September 1975, Secretary of Transportation William T. Coleman submitted a report to Congress stating that diversity and intermodal competition are essential to an effective transportation system. Secretary Coleman said:

"Government policy must move in the direction of increasing equal competition among the transportation systems and correct the injustices of the past."

The secretary noted that the development and modernization of a nationwide, privately owned interstate rail freight system is essential to the national interest. The secretary said:

"Special short-term federal intervention and support are necessary to restore the operating and financial liability and modernization of major portions of a vital industry, in which many firms have gone bankrupt in the last ten years and in which the industry-wide rate of return on net investment after taxes has averaged only one percent over the last 11 years."

"The secretary recommended prompt federal action to 'remedy the inequities of the government subsidy to the railroads' major competitors, water carriers." The secretary's report stated:

"National inland waterway policy should be compatible with national transportation policy. It has become apparent from the increased criticism of adversely affected carriers that use of the existing public investment criteria for the water mode is inequitable."

"The Railroad Realization and Regulatory Reform Act of 1975 (Public Law 94-210), Congress recognized the need for more facts as to the economic and environmental modes of transportation and the adverse effect such aid has had on the railroads."

"Section 302 of the act requires the secretary of Transportation to undertake such a study."

"It would be directly contrary to the intent of that act if Congress were to allow the Corps on the basis of inadequate facts, to undertake a multimillion dollar project to build a new transportation mode, particularly where there is every indication that the project is part of a new multimillion-dollar system."

"Conflicting agency actions and policies have led to the decline of the railroad industry."

grant to be matched by district funds (property tax). If this bill moves, no amendment should be considered that drops the state grant and places the entire responsibility upon property taxpayers.

"It, therefore, makes little sense to invest a very large sum of taxpayers' money in a direct subsidy to the main competitors of a system that we are trying to salvage."

"From fiscal year 1970 through fiscal year 1975, the federal government appropriated $1.45 billion in direct subsidies for inland and intercoastal waterways."

"During that same period of time, approximately $166 million was spent on the bankrupt Northeastern railroads to keep them operating."

"Additionally, $47.2 million was spent on Amtrak. Of the total amount in direct subsidies to transportation, only 11.4 per cent was spent on rail."

"The cost of ownership and maintenance of railroad rights-of-way account for nearly one-fourth of the railroad revenue dollar."

"Furthermore, railroads own and pay taxes on their rights-of-way, whereas waterborne carriers have their rights-of-way purchased out of public funds."

Since 1952, government expenditures have more than doubled for inland and intercoastal waterways. Construction, operation, and maintenance costs are all paid by the federal government."

"To date, expenditures for navigation by the Corps have exceeded $6 billion, more than half of which are for inland waterways."

"According to the Corps of Engineers, annual operation and maintenance for shallow draft inland waterways traffic cost approximately $73 million a year."

"The inland waterway system is an unconstant improvement by the Corps and enjoys the benefit of services provided by the U.S. Coast Guard."

"It is clear that the policy of fair and impartial regulation for all modes of transportation has not been followed. Section 500 of the 1920 amendments to the Interstate Commerce Act declares:

"It is the policy of the Congress... to foster and encourage in full vigor both rail and water transportation."

"It is clear from the secretary's September report that this policy has not been implemented."

"The substantial expansion of inland waterway capacity along the Upper Mississippi and Illinois navigation systems, without first determining economic and environmental impacts of such an expansion, is bad public policy."

"Our national transportation laws demand a balance. The secretary has recommended steps to achieve that balance."

"It appears that the Corps proposal will only exacerbate a serious situation and perpetuate an inequitable situation."

"The Corps proposal will not achieve the balance sought by Congress. Until the impacts of the Corps plan are detailed, Congress should not proceed on the question of authorizing replacement or rehabilitation."

"The environmental objections have been well stated by Judge Richey's Memorandum of Sept. 6, 1974, and by the Fish and Wildlife Service in their January comments to the Corps of Engineers' environmental impact statement."

"The economic concerns, which would result in increased cost to carriers and shippers and decreased service over the 50-year economic life of the project, have been detailed in the September 1975 report of the DOT to the Senate Commerce Committee. These considerations need to be coupled with the potential loss of 50,000 jobs in the private sector."

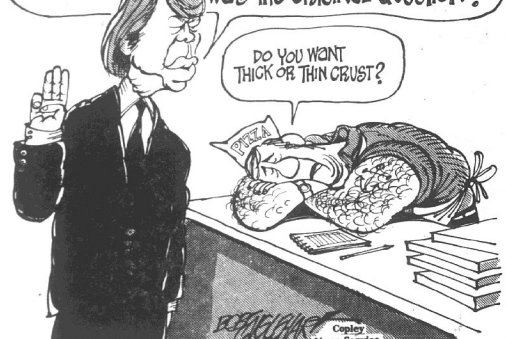

"This legislation speaks to the need for more facts. Congress requested last year."

"Congress is faced with an important decision—whether it will take between eight and 11 years to construct, this bill mandates the Corps will seek such appropriations as necessary to insure the efficient operation and repair of the existing facility while the mode is under way."

"It orders the Corps to develop, with appropriate public participation, a traffic

Rough rail crossings damage autos

To the Editor:

What can be done about the railroads that surround Granite City?

You don't leave Granite City or come into the city unless you go over a railroad crossing. I've blown out tires due to this.

The wheels of my car have to be balanced so often that it is terrible. And who do we talk to about this? No one does anything.

These were new tires, too. But the railroads have to go on, don't they?

What about the long loads that they pull, and the effect on people at the crossings? You waste a tank of gasoline waiting for them.

Am I the only one who is griping about it?

MARYVILLE ROAD WOMAN

Risk damage to please concrete firms

To the Editor:

It is shameful that so many people are being allegedly bribed to give their votes for the ready-made concrete industry's raising the allowable weight limits for concrete-mix trucks.

This was a bad bill. Admittedly, the concrete industry efficiency would be raised if its trucks could do their jobs in fewer round trips. But this would be a false economy, for it would be at the expense of pounding the highways to bits. Damage to the roads goes up geometrically as truck weight increases, and heavier trucks cause worse accidents, too. Moreover, the heavy trucks use not only the main highways, but also the less sturdy built side roads, which incur even more damage.

It makes little sense to borrow hundreds of millions of dollars for highway construction unless we also make sure that the new roads are well-constructed and that damage to existing roads is kept at a minimum.

GLENN T. WILSON

management plan to minimize the delays in lockage at the existing facility.

"This legislation does not prejudge what the ultimate solution to the problem will be."

"It does, however, speak to the point that only by enacting this legislation will the requirements of both Judge Richey's court order as well as the requirements of the National Environmental Policy Act be met."

"In addition, the studies will provide answers to the basic economic, environmental and engineering questions that have been raised."

"When these studies are completed and the reports have been filed with Congress, an informed and considered judgment that speaks to the national interest can then be made."

"It seems to me that we are at a major decisionmaking watershed which will either chart a new course for this nation or reemphasize the mistakes of the past."

Plan first aid course for Madison citizens

A first aid and rescue course for the citizens of Madison is being planned by Casimir Krakowicki, civil defense coordinator for the city. The Madison City Council was told Tuesday night.

Krakowicki explained that Emergency Medical Technicians are available in the area as instructors.

"There are several simple techniques that can be taught in just an hour or two that perhaps could save a man's life. Choking on food can and does cause death and the way to help the person is easy to learn," he emphasized.

Mayor Mike Sasyk said, "I think this would be an excellent program not only for many of our citizens, but also I would like you to contact our chief of police and fire chief, as this would be good training for members of both departments."

Bumper stickers advertising the Madison Bicentennial Ethnic Festival scheduled July 2, 3 and 4 on the St. Mary's School grounds, were then passed out to the aldermen and city officials.

Frank Papa, administrative assistant to Mayor Sasyk, reported that several Madison organizations already have agreed up to participate in Ethnic Days and that if the aldermen knew of any group wishing to participate, they should contact William Gushel, general chairman, or himself, for details. Fifth Ward Alderman Donald Garrett raised a question. He said, "Many people in our ward are upset about the house in the 900 block of Franklin Street and wondering when it is going to be torn down."

Mayor Sasyk replied, "The city is ready to tear it down now. The only things we wanted to make sure of is that the owners can't afford to tear it down, and that we have a place to dump the debris. We have these questions settled and we will be taking it down very soon."

The council authorized the Sacred Heart Polish National Catholic Church, 800 Reynolds St. to hold its annual picnic on July 30, 31, and Aug. 1. Mayor Sasyk said, "I would like the purchasing committee to review our entire city insurance program and see if we can save any money in this area. I also would like the department heads and finance committee members to meet again on the budget right away."

The council voted to hold the next council meeting at 6:30 p.m. on Monday, June 14, so that the City Council can support the Salvation Army fund-raising project at a dinner theater party on Tuesday, June 15.

The council held a silent prayer in memory of two former city employees who died during the past two weeks, John Evangeloff and Cecil S. Dant.

Fairfax is tied for the league's second place slot with Van's of East Alton, each with a 5-3, won-lost record. Thomas dropped a twobull in the season opener to Fairfax May 1.

THROWN FROM CYCLE

Philip Frazell, 22, of 1425 Second St., Madison, was injured during a "grudge" racing program Wednesday night at St. Louis International Raceway when his motorcycle bucked at the starting line, throwing him to the asphalt. He suffered a broken right wrist and abrasions to both legs, both arms and his hands. He was brought by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he was admitted.

Sewers

available to as many people as possible to see that facts about the sewer cost are known and not rumors which are being spread to block the project.

He said he is aware petitions have been circulated in the area around Thorngate Drive and along West Chain of Rocks Road in Mitchell, and believes that others are being circulated in the Sunny Dell and Harwood subdivisions.

He noted that if people opposing the sewers and the proposed means of financing them succeeded in getting 51 per cent of residents of the proposed service area to sign, the property owners to sign the petitions—the county clerk would not be able to create the necessary payment process.

That would be a shame, since we would lose the state offer to pay 75 per cent of the costs of constructing the sewers.

The biggest shame is that some people circulating these petitions are not doing so fairly. They are giving people distorted facts and exaggerated figures to get them to sign.

What they are doing is going out and badmouthing this project to try and get 51 per cent of the people to sign. If they would just tell the people the facts, I am sure most people would not sign the petitions.

Sparks said after he had reviewed alternative methods of financing to those presented, the Board of Auditors voted to have a leaflet prepared and sent to the township's residents explaining the problems with other possible forms of financing the project and showing why the general obligation bond method was chosen.

Experts studying the situation here have concluded the general obligation method, repaid by taxes, is the only feasible way to raise our 25 per cent share of the cost," Sparks said.

A similar leaflet was prepared by the Nantuxi Town Board of Auditors and is being distributed in that township, attempting to show people the advantage of general obligation bonds over revenue bonds or a flat-sum payment of the sewer cost.

After Sparks' explanation of the sewer funding, one woman commented that she was going to try and contact those who brought a petition to her and urge them to cross her name off the petition.

Another woman later notified township officials that she and her husband also plan to try and have their names removed.

Similar anti-sewer petition drives are under way in Area Two (State Park Place) and Area Three (Eagle Park Acres-Cloverleaf-East Madison areas).

The three taxing areas proposed for sewers must be kept separate by law since they are not contiguous, and each must be able to raise its own 25 per cent share of the construction cost through taxing of the property within the district to be served.

South Boosters to meet Monday

The Granite City High School South Booster Club will meet at 7 p.m. Monday, June 7, at the Ponderosa Steak House, to discuss participating in the Fourth of July celebration at Wilson Park, according to the president, Franz Feigl.

All parents are being urged to attend, the president said.

Spring drag race nationals here Friday through Sunday

Most of the top names in professional drag racing, including the funny cars, top fuel dragsters and pro stockers, are expected to be here for the Spring Nationals of Drag Racing which open tomorrow for a three-day event at St. Louis International Raceway south of Madison.

More than 100 cars in the funny car, top fuel, pro-stock and pro-comp classes are expected to be on hand for the event, which is one of only two Grand American Series drag races sponsored by the American Hot Rod Association.

Since points toward the national championship can only be earned at the Grand American races, few of the top drivers miss any of the 10 races.

Funny cars expected include Gene Snow, the Blue Max, Tommy Hoover, "Jungle Jim"

Leiberman, Toin "The Monogoose" McEwen and many others.

Top fuel dragsters on hand will include the car of "Kamas" John Wiebe, Frank Bradley and many other top names, it is anticipated.

Full fields of top-ranked drivers also are expected in the pro-stock, pro-comp, super stock and stock classes.

Gates will open at noon

Friday for trophy class runoffs and practice runs for professional cars. A special exhibition match also is being planned.

Practice runs will resume Saturday morning, followed by professional qualifying as the professional cars attempt to bump their way into fields. There is fastest funny cars, and the eight quickest qualifiers in the top fuel, pro stock and pro-comp classes.

The track will open again at 8 a.m. Sunday for practice runs followed by full eliminations in all professional and money classes.

51 groups seeking compensation law

Fifty-one organizations representing taxpayers, school boards and a cross-section of employer associations, led by the Illinois Manufacturers' Association, urged the Illinois Senate Committee on Labor and Commerce, meeting in Springfield last week, to pass a package of bills supported by industry to amend the state Workers' Compensation and Occupational Diseases Act.

IMA President Orville V. Bergren, first witness for the BIFTC coalition (Business and Industry Federation of Economic Concerns), urged the legislature to "rectify wrongs done employers" by General Assembly 1975 passage of bills which have increased employers' compensation costs.

According to Bergren, "Percentage-wise, average manufacturers' premiums have increased over 50 per cent compared to last year."

"Additional, recently requested increases by insurance carriers will, if approved, make the average total increase over last year about 85 per cent."

"As experience under some of the new open-end provisions of the law becomes available, experts in this field believe that the rates for 1977 will double this year's rate. Longer-range projections are even more discouraging."

Private employers are not alone in their anguish regarding the enormous dollar increases in WC costs.

Municipal employers have been astounded by their higher insurance premiums for municipal employees. For example, the City of Bloomington premium for WC coverage went from $24,000 in 1975 to $125,000 in 1976, a 308 per cent increase. And they have been told to expect another increase of at least 50 per cent next year.

Bergren said IMA backed bills would bring Illinois WC laws into line with the 19 essential recommendations of the National Commission on State Workers' Compensation Laws.

We strongly urge enactment of Senate Bills 1816 through 1827 and S.B. 1827 to amend the Worker's Compensation and Occupational Diseases statutes. The unprecedented banding together of such a large and diverse group of organizations in this effort provides dramatic testimony to the seriousness of the problem," he said.

This entire package of bills is considered as needed emergency legislation. The Assembly is trying to limit its efforts at this session to money bills as much as possible. There are money bills, too—big money bills for employers.

Organizations supporting S.B. 1816-1827 and 1827 are:

American Insurance Association, American Mutual Insurance Alliance, Associated Employers of Illinois, Associated General Contractors of Illinois, Auto & Truck Recyclers of Illinois, Automotive Wholesalers of Illinois, Chicago Association of Commerce & Industry, Chicago Association of Life Underwriters, Chicago Board of Underwriters, Chicago-Midwest Meat Association, Consulting Engineers Council of Illinois, Executive Management Services Company (Illinois Precast Concrete Association, Illinois State Tire Dealers & Retreaders Association, Midwest Ready Mix Concrete Association), Grain & Feed Association of Illinois, Homebuilders Association of Illinois.

Illinois Association of Aggregate Producers, Illinois Association of Realtors, Illinois Association of Roofing Contractors, Illinois Association of School Boards, Illinois Association of Tobacco & Candy Distributors, Illinois Automotive Trade Association, Illinois Coal Operators Association, Illinois Construction Industry Committee of Associated General Contractors, Illinois Laundry Association, Illinois Life Insurance Council.

Illinois Life Underwriters Association, Illinois Livestock Association, Illinois Lumber & Material Dealers Association, Illinois Manufacturers' Association and Industrial Council, Illinois Manufactured Housing Association, Illinois Mechanical Specialty Contractors Association, Illinois Movers & Warehousemen's Association, Illinois Municipal League, Illinois Mutual Association of Insurance Agents, Illinois Petroleum Council, Illinois Petroleum Marketers Association, Illinois Retail Merchants Association, Illinois Road Builders Association, Illinois State Chamber of Commerce, Illinois Telephone Association.

Illinois Trucking Association, Inc., Independent Farm Insurance Agents of Illinois, Independent Insurance Agents of Illinois, Motor Vehicle Safety Council, Risk Insurance Managers Society, Society of the Plastic Industry, Inc., Southern Illinois Builders Association, Southwestern Illinois Industrial Association, Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois and Cook & De Witt Institute.

MIGHTY SOFT STONEWALL. Mrs. Regina Jackovich of Madison (left) and Mrs. McGura Jones of Granite City look at a quilt made in the "Stonewall" pattern at a quilt show at SIUE. The show drew quilt makers and quilt lovers to the campus from all over Illinois and many parts of the United States. The Stonewall pattern quilt is almost 100 years old and represents the five Virginia regiments commanded by General "Stonewall" Jackson, who went to rescue Bee's Brigade at the Battle of Bull Run on July 21, 1861.

When you bid us a fond adieu
Your smiling face
We shall see no more
Until we too enter beaven's door.

Sadly missed by—

Rules on tax issue

Attorney General William J.
Scott has issued three legal opinions relating to the collection and spending of money for public use.

Scott advised Frank A. Kirk, director, Department of Local Government Affairs, that property being purchased by a charitable organization and used exclusively for charitable purposes, is not exempt from taxation. Scott said only after title passed from a non-exempt owner to a charitable institution could the property be considered for an exemption.

In another taxing opinion,
Scott advised Frank X.
Yackley, LaSalle County state's attorney, that state law permits retroactive correction of errors in unpaid tax bills on mobile homes. Scott noted that section
6.1 of the Mobile Home Local Service Tax Act can be given retroactive effect because it is remedial in nature. Scott said, however, that if an incorrect tax bill has already been paid, without protest, the taxpayer cannot recover the excess money.

In an opinion on expending public funds, the attorney general advised Richard J.
Doyle, Vermilion County state's attorney, that it would be improper for a school board to use school district funds to promote or oppose the formation of a unit school district.

MR. AND MRS. JEROME HEIMANN, whose wedding took place in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Pearman, 2405 Wilson Ave. The bride is the former Sherri Diane Brewner, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira E. Brewner Sr., 3869 Rodney Ave.

Sherri Brewner becomes Mrs. Jerome A. Heimann

Miss Sherri Diane Brewner became the bride of Jerome A. Heimann in ceremonies performed by the Rev. Raymond McGinness at 5:30 p.m. May 15 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Pearman, 2405 Wilson Ave.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Edward Brewner Sr., 3869 Rodney Ave. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. John J. Heimann, 5329 Adelaide Washington Park.

For her wedding, the bride chose a full-length white peau de soie gown featuring a sabrina neckline, edged with Venise lace and long tapered sleeves forming points at the wrists. The skirt was boned and she wore a Juliet headpiece to hold in place her shoulder-length veil and she held a single red rose festooned with greenery and a red ribbon.

Mrs. Rose Ann Chadwell, matron of honor, was attired in an apricot dress and jacket ensemble. She wore a corsage of apricot carnations.

Jack Chadwell attended the groom as best man.

A reception for guests was held in the home of the bride's parents immediately following the service.

A 1975 graduate of Carlyle High School, the bride will attend Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville this fall.

The groom was graduated from Assumption High School in 1974. He is enrolled at SIUE, where he is majoring in law. They are residing in Granite City.

Joint vacation church school

Three downtown churches are combining their resources again this year to sponsor Vacation Bible School classes. This marks the fourth year St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ, First United Presbyterian and Niedringhaus United Methodist churches have held this series of classes together.

"The first year it was on a trial basis," the Rev. Robert Kettelhut, pastor of St. Peter Church, said. "Now we know it works."

The Rev. David Maxton and the Rev. Roy Baugh agree, noting that "we not only serve our own children better this way but we reach out to the boys and girls of the community."

This year's Vacation Bible School will begin Monday, June 7, and run for two weeks from 1 to 3 p.m. at St. Peter United Church of Christ, 21st and Cleveland Boulevard. Classes will be offered for 3-year-olds through those who have completed eighth grade.

Registrations may be made at either of the three churches or on opening day of classes, however, advance registration are encouraged to help teachers prepare. There is no registration fee to attend classes.

This year's theme is "Made in God's Image." Each day pupils will have an opportunity to study the Bible, discuss topics relevant to their daily life, worship, play games and other community-building events, enjoy refreshments and make craft projects.

This year's mission project for all classes will be to raise money through a free-will offering to help build Stack-Sack houses in underdeveloped areas of the world. On the final evening of VBS, June 17, a family night program will conclude the two-week experience with an "open house."

Preparations for this year's VBS began in February when the six co-superintendents, two from each church, began their planning with the Rev. Robert Landes, assistant pastor at First Presbyterian Church. Since then the teachers and helpers have been meeting and preparing for the vacation school program. The co-superintendents who will direct the daily activities are: Mrs. Carol Carpenter, Jane Vansier, Norma Macdon, Diane Wheeler, Skip Kidman and Louise Pavier. Children of the community are invited to attend Vacation Bible School. Further information can be secured by calling either of the three churches. Dress is casual, learning is informal and everyone has a good time at VBS officials said. A relaxed atmosphere allows both teachers and pupils to realize through a variety of ways the importance of each of them and all other persons as God's handwork, the sponsoring pastors added.
